CRESCENT PARK SCHOOL GROWS

COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGER'S OFFICE

As most people have probably observed, the highway department is tarring this week. The decision was made earlier to tar the first of July this year with the idea that the weather would be better to tar than the June tarring weather of past years. This July, weather has been anything but good for tarring. Thursday, July 5, it was too cold to tar. Since then things have been a little better and most of the tarring should be finished this week.

The town will procure the loan for the Crescent Park School addition. The total needed for construction and equipment of the addition is $42,000. A special town meeting isn't needed for the loan because article 54 of the regular town meeting warrant authorized the selectmen and treasurer to procure a loan or loans not exceeding $50,000 for the construction and equipping of the addition.

Second NTL Session Includes 5 Programs

The second session of NTL's Sixteenth Annual Laboratories on Human Relations opened July 9 and will end July 20. This session has moved a long distance from the 1947 laboratory which brought 67 delegates to Bethel for a single session. Now in process are five separate programs involving a total staff, training and administrative, of 57 plus kitchen, dining room, and maintenance staffs and a participant body of 200. Since the day camp directed by Mrs. Ronald Lippitt at NTL's Conference House, involves some fifty children, the total laboratory community, with wives and older children mounts to several hundred.

The five programs now running concurrently include two sections of the traditional human relations laboratory, the third annual community leadership laboratory, a program for NTL alumni—largely delegates returning to Bethel for more advanced training, and a program for social science interns. The intern program, initiated in 1960, is designed to give social scientists well trained in their own fields an intensive experience in human relations training. The program was introduced because the steady growth of NTL's program creates a critical demand for qualified trainers. This year's program is partially supported by a special grant from the National Institute for Mental Health and by gifts from corporations which utilize NTL's program in their own executive development program.

Crescent Park School as bricklaying was about to start last week on the two-room addition. The end wall was removed to provide for a double room in the new plans.

The community leadership training laboratory has brought together delegates from all parts of the country who are engaged in various ways in working to improve communities and to involve people more effectively in solving their own community problems. Special concerns to the participants include youth needs, urban renewal, community mental health, health services, recreation, problems of the aging, economic opportunities, and so continued on page four

Andover Earth Station Sends TV via Satellite to France and England

Andover, Oxford County, Maine, gained world-wide fame Tuesday when its Earth Station sent television programs to England and France by way of the satellite Telstar. The satellite was launched from Cape Canaveral, Florida, early Tuesday morning and on its sixth orbit received and transmitted the live program from a distance of 3,000 miles.

The first picture showed the United States flag waving over the Andover radome while the Star Spangled Banner was played over a taped segment. Then live pictures showed Washington officials watching the program.

Wednesday night a program of Parisian night life and songs was received from the French station in Brittany, and later live pictures from England were "bounced" from Telstar.

Construction of the Andover station by the American Tel. and Tel. Co. started in the spring of 1961. In recent months extensive tests of the equipment have been made. For some time the site has attracted thousands of visitors who have enjoyed guided tours and instructive talks by personnel.

Little League Baseball Day Saturday Offers Full Slate of Events

Everyone is encouraged to lend a hand to help make a success of the Little League Day, scheduled for Saturday, July 14. Things get underway Friday night at the Newry Grange Hall with a dance from 8 to 12, and all day Saturday the boys will be supporting their own cause with a Tag Day with a candy sale and soft drinks, etc., on the Common.

At one o'clock activities start with a doll carriage and bicycle parade, complete with band music. At two o'clock, the Ancient Old Men of the Fire Department will demonstrate their baseball prowess by taking on the Bethel Legion for a few innings, probably followed by a few innings of dads versus lads, if enough dads are still physically capable of competition.

Popecorn, soft drinks, etc., will be on sale during these events at the Gould Athletic Field.

At 6 p. m., the Legion will serve a baked bean supper on the Common, followed by a band concert. At 8 P. M. there will be beano game at the Community Rooms, and a teenage Record Hop on the Gould Academy parking lot featuring WRUM's disc jockey, Lobster Shorey.

Let's all try to give this worthwhile project our wholehearted support to provide the youngsters of our town with the equipment necessary to keep them busy playing a supervised sport which helps to build strong bodies and active minds. An All-American Boy can't be beaten if he has the support of All-American Adults.

Pitch in, please!

Considerable damage resulted from Monday evening's thunderstorm at George Brown's when lightning struck a tree in back of the garage—traveled on a wire to the garage—burned off a cable to one overhead door and damaged a lift chain—broken three windows in the doors—blew one window almost completely out, at the back of the garage, traveled down a metal pole—used as a center support in the garage—breaking the concrete block on which the pipe set, sending a shower of dirt onto the Browns' car. ### CHAMELEON

He bows from the waist with the greatest of ease; His drawing-room manners are sure to please; In his home he's charming considerate host; As a guest... he would satisfy Emily Post.

But, believe it or not, there's a less pleasant side; Why, this guy is a regular Jekyll and Hyde; Put him out on the highway, his hands on the wheel — He's no longer a gentleman... strictly a heel!

Stop signs and signals were not made for him; He drives as it suits his particular whim; Speeds along in the night as he would in the day; He paid for his license... get out of the way!

He never dims headlights: he cuts in and out — This drawing-room dandy, but motoring lout! Who is this chameleon? Surely, not I! Of course not!... It's got to be some other guy!

V. A. NEWS LETTER

Projections prepared by the Veterans Administration indicate that there are 150,000 to 200,000 Korean Conflict veterans still eligible to take advantage of the educational provisions of the Korean GI Bill.

However, they have only about two-and-a-half-years in which to complete their training or education. The law provides that all education and training of non-disabled Korean veterans will end by January 31, 1965.

Since the Korean GI Bill program started, more than 2,372,000 Korean Conflict veterans have either gone to college or taken below-college-level training or on-the-job or on-the-farm courses.

There are about 100,000 Korean veterans still in training under these programs now. However, surveys of those eligible and interested have indicated that as many as 200,000 additional veterans may enter the program before it comes to an end.

They will have to cram their entire courses into the two-

TEST YOUR DRIVING I. Q.

Select the best answer.

Question: Approximately what proportion of fatal accidents involve drinking drivers? (a) one out of three. (b) One out of ten. (c) One out of twenty. (d) One out of a 100.

Research studies are focusing ever increasing attention on the problem of people who drink and then drive. Post-mortem tests (tests made after death) disclosed that the body tissues of a startlingly high percentage of traffic accident victims contained alcohol. Statistics based on accident reports from the various states show that one out of three fatal motor vehicle accidents involve a drinking driver. Indeed, special studies indicate almost one out of every two. In a carefully controlled New York State study, alcohol was found in the blood or brain tissue of 69% of the drivers killed in single car accidents.

It is known that alcohol does certain things to the person who drinks it: (1) Alcohol is absorbed into the blood stream almost immediately, and it impairs the functions of the central nervous system. (2) The effects of alcohol differ widely among different individuals and in the same individual at different times. (3) Alcohol inter-

San Francisco—Super Shell with Platformate has just delivered a mileage bonus of 4.33 percent. Platformate is Super Shell's mileage ingredient. Shell engineers test Super Shell for mileage in many different types of cars, in many different places. Here's how the test above was run. Exactly 250 cc (about half a pint) of a fuel blended without Platformate was fed into the test car's engine. The car was started, accelerated to 30 miles per hour, then held there until fuel ran out and the car rolled to a stop. Distance: 6186 feet (indicated by dotted line in background). Next, test was repeated, using Super Shell—the same fuel as before but with Platformate added. Precise same volume of fuel. Same car. Same speed. Same driver. Same conditions. Distance: 6454 feet. That's 4.33 percent farther than the car traveled with non-Platformate gasoline.

MILEAGE TEST

New documented tests prove that one of Super Shell's 9 ingredients packs extra mileage into every gallon

The picture above was snapped a few moments after Super Shell with an extra mileage ingredient called Platformate delivered a mileage bonus of 4.33 percent.

That's a typical result from a series of mileage tests Shell engineers recently ran on the outskirts of San Francisco.

The tests compared two gasolines. One was a gasoline Shell scientists purposely blended without Platformate. The other was Super Shell—the same gasoline as before but with Platformate added.

Shell engineers used a 1962 convertible for the tests. You may be driving a similar car right now.

In test after test, Super Shell with Platformate consistently took the car about 4 percent farther than the gasoline blended without Platformate.

Note: For more details on these tests, see caption under picture. And for technical data, write to the Shell Oil Company, 50 West 50 Street, New York 20, N. Y.

Platformate gets its name from the platinum re-forming process used to make it.

Pressures up to 600 pounds per square inch and temperatures up to 1000 degrees literally tear petroleum apart. A precious platinum catalyst then helps re-form the petroleum into super-energy components. result: Platformate can release more energy per gallon than the finest 100-octane aviation gasoline. Your engine can convert extra energy into extra mileage.

Super Shell has 9 ingredients for top performance

Extra mileage is just one part of the top performance story. Super Shell's other ingredients complete the picture. Here's what they are and what they do.

TCP® for power, mileage, longer plug life.

Pentane mix— for fast "warm-up."

Butane— for quick starts.

Anti-knock mix—to resist all kinds of knock.

Alkylata—to help control "high speed knock."

"Cat cracked" gasoline—for power.

Anti-icer—added in cold weather to help check carburetor icing stalls.

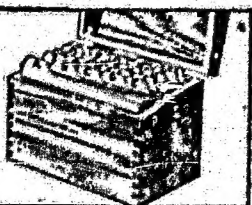

Gum preventive—to help keep carburetors clean inside.

Super Shell—the gasoline with 9 ingredients for top performance
